

Motivating example: five δ methods applied to the same synthetic split node ($n = 300$, $\theta^* = 6.75$)
Each method estimates a different observable property of the local error probability $p_e(d)$ (Section 3.2)

